

Contents

Fall 2008 | VOL/2 | NO/4

20

20 | Escalating Safety

Moving stairs can mean serious danger. Here's how to keep your visitors and employees on a steady upward trajectory. By Molly Petrilla

26 | The New World of Safety & Security

VSS presents Part Two of a groundbreaking roundtable discussion with some of the industry's most notable figures — and provides a revealing look at the responsibilities and challenges facing today's venue managers.

PERSPECTIVE

34 | Drilling Down

Evacuation simulations put your venue's plans to the test.

By Maria Talbert

36 | On Common Ground

Reaching an understanding with code enforcement authorities is a win-win for venues.

By Colin Thompson

IN EVERY ISSUE

04 | Command Center

Managing Risk Becomes a Greater Challenge

06 | This Way In

Gulf Coast Venues Called On Again to Shelter Hurricane Evacuees

10 | Product Focus

At the ASIS Show

A selection of products from this year's security trade show.

14 | Infrastructure

An Ounce of Protection

New tools help building owners test and fine-tune fire alarm systems.

16 | Risk Management

Planning for Evacuation

New Department of Homeland Security initiative helps venues manage emergency evacuation procedures.

18 | Retail and Concessions

Preventing Credit Card Fraud

How to keep your venue from being duped.

38 | Lessons Learned

Surviving Sweeping Floods

VenuWorks executive director Scott Schoenike on the devastating floods in Iowa this summer.

40 | This Way Out

Parting thoughts, final words and conclusive data.

