

Contents

Summer 2008 | VOL/2 | NO/3

20 | The New World of Safety & Security

VSS presents a groundbreaking roundtable discussion with some of the industry's most notable figures — and provides a revealing look at the responsibilities and challenges facing today's venue managers.

28 | Gun Control and Campus Violence

In the wake of two deadly shootings, venue officials are searching for ways to balance protecting our constitutional rights — and our students' lives.

By Steven A. Adelman and Mark Henricks

PERSPECTIVE

36 | A Partnership for Preparedness

IAAM and American Red Cross are working together — and counting on you.

By Harold Hansen and Anne Palmer

IN EVERY ISSUE

04 | Command Center

In the Business of Fun, Safety Comes First

06 | This Way In

>> ViSAT Course Approved by DHS >> Building Back >> Collaborative Planning Needed, Report Says >> Preparing for a Crisis

10 | Product Focus

Secure ID Verification

Don't miss these products that help you keep tabs on who's who in your venue.

14 | Infrastructure

Spotting the Angry Attendee

New techniques and technologies can help your venue more easily identify potential aggressors in crowds.

16 | Risk Management

A Consistent Approach to Credentials

A national identification program promises to create much-needed standards for venues and workers.

18 | Retail and Concessions

Tell Insects to Bug Off

Integrated pest management programs are critical to keeping pests out of your concession areas.

38 | Lessons Learned

Rapid Response

Centennial Olympic Park general manager Mark Banta on the tornado that hit Atlanta.

40 | This Way Out

